

To Battle Poverty and Create Jobs in San Diego's minority communities, SDMCC will target private, public and corporate companies to push for 25% of all construction (and construction related) contracts be awarded to San Diego based minority construction & construction related companies

SDMCC Vision:

The construction industry is the foundation to job creation for minority communities that in turn battle poverty. The minority construction and construction related companies are the engine to job creation yet lack equitable access to capital, contracts (commercial, residential, services, repair, maintenance, and renovations) and capacity building for their companies. The San Diego Minority Construction Coalition (SDMCC) will focus on capital, contracts and capacity building for San Diego based minority construction (construction related) companies that enable them to create jobs in minority low moderate income communities of San Diego.

SDMCC Mission:

The mission of the San Diego Minority Construction Coalition is to provide a mechanism in which San Diego based minority construction and construction related companies can gain increased access to capital, contracts and capacity building that will enable them to grow (expand) that creates jobs in minority communities.

November-December Capacity Building Sessions:

(Dates TBD)

Access to Capital Tract: Key financial institutions and CDFIs (community financial institution) will provide information on how SDMCC members can access lines of credit over $10,000.

SDMCC is working with these capital funds to target specific construction capital for San Diego based minority construction (construction related) companies.

Access to Contract Tract: Wells Fargo and their key Tier 1 suppliers (including CB Richard Ellis) will present contract opportunities for SDMCC members.

Capacity Building Tract: MBE Certification session...
Construction Marketing